CAMPAIGN PROJECTIONS:

While results for each campaign will vary due to a myriad of factors (including audience reaction, genre, musical quality, time of year, etc.) and we cannot make guarantees (due to Spotify's terms and agreements), the following is an estimation based on our extensive promotional experience:

We typically see an increase of 5,000-60,000 monthly listeners, depending on genre and choice of campaign. This is all genre-specific listenership, as we know the importance of having the right audience hear the music, and we know the music industry extremely well. The higher budgets and longer campaigns, naturally, would have higher thresholds.

NOTE: To date, we've helped artists achieve hundreds of millions of streams in these niche genres. Many of our clients are on long-term retainers and consistently bring in hundreds of thousands of streams monthly, thanks to our work.
